Journal for School-Based Counseling Policy and Evaluation
(JSCPE)
Autumn 2018, Volume 1, Issue 1

Contents

Commentary

iv On School-based Counseling Policy and Evaluation
Christopher A. Sink & Jay C. Carey

International Perspectives

1 School Counselor Knowledge, Beliefs, and Practices Related to the Implementation of Standards-Based Comprehensive School Counseling in the United States
Alexandra A. Lauterbach, Karen Harrington, Ayse D. Yakut, and Michael Krezmien

17 School-Based Counseling in Mainland China: Past, Present, and Future.
Qi Shi

Mental Health Issues

26 Recommendations for the Role and Responsibilities of School-Based Mental Health Counselors
David D. Christian and Cian L. Brown

40 Improving Mental Health Outcomes for Young Children Through the Implementation of the Primary Project
Mary Anne Peabody, Kristi L. Perryman, Margaret Hannah, Lynn Smith, and Shelley M. Sanyshyn

College/Career Readiness

51 Using School-Based Development to Support College and Career Readiness: An Integrative Review
Lia D. Falco and Sam Steen
ABOUT THE JOURNAL (JSCPE)

In the fall 2017, International Society for Policy Research and Evaluation in School-Based Counseling (ISPRESC) launched an international scholarly journal for practicing counselors, counselors in training, and academics aligned with school-based counseling across the globe. The aim is to initiate a serious international conversation about the need for innovative and wide-ranging school-based counseling policymaking that is founded on scientific evidence and rigorous evaluations. Articles are published twice a year online at the Ronald H. Fredrickson Center for School Counseling Outcome Research & Evaluation (CSCORE)

Link: http://www.umass.edu/schoolcounseling/JSCPE_index.php

The journal’s principal goals are to disseminate (1) high quality school-based counseling research related to policy and evaluation, (2) innovations in school-based counseling policy and evaluation, (3) evidence-based conceptual or theoretical approaches to school-based counseling research and evaluation methods related policy studies, and (4) accountability methods in school-based counseling policy and evaluation.

Types of Manuscripts: Potential contributors (i.e., counselor educators, professional counselors, and graduate students) are invited to focus their manuscript on one of these four broad goal areas above. The journal welcomes contributions that are empirical studies, conceptual or forum pieces, philosophical papers, or manuscripts describing innovative and evidence-based practices. Given the journal is international in focus and distribution, contributions are welcomed from authors who represent school-based counseling in their particular countries or regions. Additional topics are acceptable, particularly if they are relate to school-based counseling, policy, and evaluation. Note: Preferential consideration will be given to manuscripts with an international perspective.

Submission: Authors should submit their manuscript (3,000 to 15,000 words) in English with an abstract in the authors’ native language and a translated version in English (no more than 150 words). The formatting and style of the manuscript must correspond closely with the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). Manuscripts are accepted throughout the year.

Review Process: The editorial board and expert ad hoc reviewers blindly review all manuscripts.

For manuscript inquires and submissions, please email

Dr. Christopher Sink, JSCPE Editor
Old Dominion University
Darden College of Education
Department of Counseling and Human Services
csink@odu.edu (email)

Editorial Staff and Board Members
Christopher Sink, Ph.D., Editor, Old Dominion University
Jennifer Brodar, Ph.D., Assistant Editor (APA editing), John Hopkins University
Rawn A. Boulden, Jr., M.Ed., HS-BCP, Assistant to the Editor, Old Dominion University
Tiffany Garverick, Assistant to the Editor, Old Dominion University

Editorial Board Members and Manuscript Reviewers
Brett Zyromski, Ph.D., The Ohio State University, USA
Carol Kaffenberger, Ph.D., George Mason University, USA
Carolyn Berger, Ph.D., University of Minnesota, USA
Chikadibia Euchari, Ph.D., Veritas University, Nigeria
Christine Yeh, Ph.D., University of San Francisco, USA
Elizabeth Thomas, Ph.D., Christ University, Bangalore, India
Fan Kuiyuan, Ph.D., Harbin Normal University, Heilongjiang Province, China
Ian Martin, Ed.D., University of San Diego, USA
Ijeoma Ernest-Ehibudu, Ph.D., University of Port Harcourt, Nigeria
John Carey, Ph.D., University of Massachusetts—Amherst, USA
JSCPE is the scholarly journal of the International Society for Policy Research and Evaluation in School-Based Counseling (ISPRESC)

About International Society for Policy Research and Evaluation in School-Based Counseling (ISPRESC)

ISPRESC is a society of university-based researchers, counselor educators, school-based counseling administrators, school leaders, graduate students, educational policy-makers and educational policy advocates. The purpose of ISPRESC is to promote the development, wellbeing and rights of children and youth to a high-quality education, worldwide, through the assurance of their access and to high quality school-based counseling services. ISPRESC is a democratic organization that operates by the consensus of its members and is committed to advancing the human rights of all children regardless of race, sexual orientation, class, nationality, ethnicity, age, disability, or spiritual/religious orientation.

For information and interest, please contact: Dr. John Carey, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, USA, Chair, jcarey@educ.umass.edu or Dr. Vivian Lee, Johns Hopkins University, USA, Chair Elect, vvlee812@gmail.com. Society link: https://qshimunoz.wixsite.com/ispresc