

SENG Journal: Exploring the Psychology of Giftedness

---

Volume 1 | Issue 2

---

September 2022

Masthead and Table of Contents

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.wm.edu/sengj>

---

Recommended Citation

(2022). Masthead and Table of Contents. SENG Journal: Exploring the Psychology of Giftedness, 1(2). Retrieved from <https://scholarworks.wm.edu/sengj/vol1/iss2/2>

This Front Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at W&M ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in SENG Journal: Exploring the Psychology of Giftedness by an authorized editor of W&M ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact scholarworks@wm.edu.

SENG

President

Lin Lim

Secretary

Karen Arnstein

VP Business Affairs

Caroline Lubbe

Director of Programming

Michael Postma

Vice President

Adam Laningham

Directors at Large

Sylvia Bagley

Gayle Brady

Mark Hess

Finance

Carrie Pokrefke

SENG Journal Staff

Editor

Tracy L. Cross, William & Mary

Advisory Board

Edward R. Amend, The Amend Group

Maggie Brown, Ph.D., MBrown Therapy & Consulting

Chandra B. Floyd, Kennesaw State University

Andrea D. Frazier, Columbus State University

Nancy B. Hertzog, University of Washington

Mihyeon Kim, William & Mary

Christopher Lawrence, Northern Kentucky University

Sakhavat Mammadov, University of Georgia

Kristie L. Speirs Neumeister, Ball State University

Colm O'Reilly, Dublin City University

Susannah M. Wood, University of Iowa

Production Editor

Keenan P. Cross

Editorial Assistant

Anyesha Mishra, William & Mary

William & Mary Libraries

Dean

Carrie L. Cooper

Head of Digital Services

Deborah A. Cornell

Publishing and Open Access Librarian

Rosalyn Liljenquist

About This Journal

SENG Journal: Exploring the Psychology of Giftedness (SENGJ) publishes original research on the psychology of giftedness biannually, in March and September. Rigorous quantitative and qualitative methodologies used in studies of the cognitive, social, and emotional realms will enlighten readers about the inner world of a unique population and contribute to our understanding of the development of talent. The journal also publishes reviews of research, theoretical explorations and interviews with thought leaders and experts on the psychology of gifted individuals. Articles have applicability for families, educators, counselors, psychologists, and all those with an interest in giftedness.

Submitting to SENJ

For more information on submitting to this journal, please visit <https://scholarworks.wm.edu/sengj>

ISSN 2831-5693

Copyright © 2022 Serving the Emotional Needs of the Gifted

---

	About This Issue	3
	Meet the Advisory Board	5
	Interview
A Trailblazer in Innovative Residential Programming for Students with Gifts and Talents: An Interview with Colm O'Reilly		8
	Interview
Challenging the Status Quo Through Theory, Research, Practice, and Leadership: An Interview with Paula Olszewski-Kubilius		16
	Literature Review
Overexcitability Research: Implications for the Theory of Positive Disintegration and the Field of Gifted Education		23
	Sal Mendaglio
	Literature Review
Addressing the Well-Being of Young Children		33
	Pauline C. Dott, Emma H. Cho, &amp; Nancy B. Hertzog
	Article
Exploring Goodness of Fit: Social Cognition Among Students with Gifts and Talents in Ireland and India		43
	Jennifer R. Cross, Anyesha Mishra, Colm O'Reilly, &amp; Paromita Roy
	Interview
Counselor's Corner: An Interview with Tom Greenspon		57